This flexible plan connects with any lifestyle. Offering three bedrooms plus a den, this single-story home is more than 1,700 square feet. It also includes two full bathrooms and a three-car garage. Walk into style with the impressive vaulted formal living room. As you make your way to the kitchen, you'll find the layout comfortable and inviting for quality family time or casual get-togethers. Oak cabinets and an extra-large pantry have all been designed with you in mind. Beyond the family room, you can get a little more privacy or quiet time in the private den. We've included all the details that matter for an incredibly affordable price. New Tradition Homes... Building Homes for Life.

New Tradition Homes is a family-owned company that has been building in Clark County, Washington since 1987. We have now opened our premier Tri-Cities neighborhood. Broadmoor Estates, in West Pasco, is an exciting new community with a fabulous location and nice oversized lots. Over the last 17 years, New Tradition Homes has developed a reputation of quality workmanship, enduring style, and an outstanding commitment to service. We look forward to carrying on this tradition in the Tri-Cities now and for many years to come.
